

On September 9th this mare was injured when entangled in an electric barbed wire fence.

She is also suckling a 3 month old foal.

Dalton found his mare in the fence on Sept. 9, 1998. The local Vet. said he didn't know how she would fare. A local farmer told him she should be put down. Another farmer told him he should try emu oil. Dalton opted to use the emu oil.

These are the results...

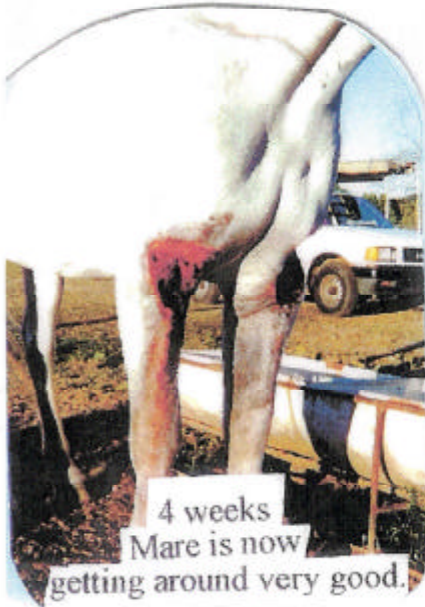

2 days after emu oil

4 Days after the accident
1st day emu oil was applied

3 weeks after emu oil
Mare laid down for the first time
The next day she walked.

4 weeks
Mare is now getting around very good.

6 weeks

11 weeks

Q.) How often did you apply the oil?

A.) Twice a day... most of the time, sometimes only once.

Q.) How often did you wash out the wounds?

A.) Only a couple of times, after we started the emu oil...

The oil seemed to keep the injury moist and clean allowed it to heal from the inside out.

Q.) What about flies?

A.) The emu oil help that problem too... the only time I felt I needed to use fly spray was days I knew I couldn't get back before dark. But then I realized the flies would land but they wouldn't stay. I don't think they liked the oil.

Comment: after 8 weeks Dalton was only applying the emu oil once a day, he said that it doesn't seem to be healing as fast, and is applying the oil twice a day again
